Rail bridge may be open for Christmas

Drawing in the crowds

SCARECROWS created by schoolchildren welcomed visitors to an art exhibition.

Local artists showed off their work at Feoffees Primary School in Little Downham, and the school's pupils helped out by making some scarecrows to catch the eyes of passers-by.

The show included work by Paul Quant, a former head-teacher at the school. Money raised by the exhibition will go to help restore the sight of people in Indian villages afflicted by cataracts.

Mr Quant has raised £1,700 for cataract charities by drawing individual pictures of 98 homes in Little Downham for residents.

Mr Quant will take his easel outside the village and draw any local home. He can be contacted on (01353) 699575.

REPLACING a rail bridge damaged by a derailed train will cost £9 million.

Network Rail has started work on the new bridge over the River Great Ouse south-east of Ely station after the old one was damaged in a freight train derailment on June 22.

The company, part-funded by the taxpayer, is currently providing the £9 million needed to design, build and install the new bridge.

The Rail Accident Investigation Branch is looking into the cause of the derailment when 11 wagons on an EWS freight train left the track.

But Network Rail will not reveal who picks up the final bill for the project. A spokeswoman said it was "acting as the focal point for claims made against the rail industry in respect of this incident".

Asked if another body may have to fund the work, she said: "I wouldn't want to speculate whether or not we would put in a claim."

If Network Rail does make a claim against another body, that will not be made public. The spokeswoman said: "We have a policy of keeping claims confidential."

The passenger route between Ely and Bury St Edmunds has been closed since the derailment, affecting vital connections between East Anglia and the north at Peterborough.

BY John Morgan

Email: editorial@elyweeklynews.co.uk

Network Rail says the bridge could be open for passenger and freight services before Christmas, but bad weather could delay the project.

Simon Brazier, civil engineering programme manager for Network Rail, said: "We're extremely pleased to be starting the construction phase of this project."

"There were a number of factors, including the marshy Fens location and the extent of the damage, which gave us some tricky problems in getting started on reconstruction, but I'm confident that we're now in the home stretch and look forward to restoring services for passengers as soon as possible."

In early August, Network Rail said the project had cost £500,000 so far. The biggest cost was the 1.3km road from the A142 needed to move a 1,000 tonne crane into position to winch off the wagons.

Kier Rail, which is carrying out the work on behalf of Network Rail, has begun preparation for the bridge ahead of receiving final approval for the design of the single-span reinforced concrete structure.

In a sign that rail bosses may rethink the policy of having only a single track on the route between Ely and Bury St Edmunds to prevent a repeat of the line closure, the new bridge will have the capacity to carry two tracks.

HRH the Duke of York, Prince Andrew, opened a new £1 million facility at Shearline, a precision engineering company based in Ely, and also visited Microsoft Research Cambridge (MRC). As the UK's special representative for international trade and investment, the Prince was well placed to understand Shearline's achievements when he was shown around its home on the Cambridgeshire Business Park.

He opened an extension to Shearline's existing 57,000 sq ft premises. The new 10,000 sq ft, two-storey building will become home to Hybrid Laser Tech Ltd, a precision laser cutting company acquired by Shearline in 2005.

The extension includes state-of-the-art environmental features, such as a rainwater recovery and usage system, and takes its energy from wind power.

Liam wins praise from mum of friend who inspired him

BY John Morgan

Email: editorial@elyweeklynews.co.uk

THE mother of the boy who inspired Liam Fairhurst's fundraising campaign has paid tribute to the youngster's courage.

Liam, 12, has raised more than £100,000 for children's cancer care charity CLIC Sargent since starting his campaign in memory of close friend Jack Wilkinson.

Jack, himself a fundraiser for East Anglia's Children's Hospices (EACH), met Liam on the children's oncology ward at Addenbrooke's Hospital, Cambridge, before losing his battle with cancer at the age of 12.

Jack's mother, Caz Wilkinson, believes the amount raised by informed him that Jack had lost his brave battle. Liam immediately, without hesitation or thought for himself, wanted to do something tangible in Jack's memory."

Liam's campaign started with a mile-long swim – despite the fact that he cannot walk that far after overcoming a tumour in his leg. The Soham Village College pupil then raised £50,000 from a panel of millionaires on the ITV1 show, Fortune: The Million Pound Giveaway.

Mrs Wilkinson has warm words of praise for Liam's dedication to her son's memory and for the cause he is helping. She said: "CLIC Sargent are a wonderful charity who supported us during Jack's sixteen months of treatment, when he relapsed after eight years in remission.

"We are still coming to terms with the loss of our special son, who, like Liam, did fundraising for others who were suffering from cancer.

"Liam and his family have achieved remarkable goals and we are so proud to know them.

"Jack would be so humbled to know that Liam continues to fundraise in his memory and for us, it helps to know that Jack will never be forgotten by those who knew and loved him."

Rare axes go on show

AN exhibition of Stone Age axes at Ely Museum will give an insight into the past.

The axes are good examples of Neolithic period workmanship. They are mostly undamaged, which is rare, and the stone used to make them comes from as far apart as Cornwall and the Lake District. The central focus of the exhibition is a collection of axes found by the late Ian Day, of Stretham, in the late 1980s.

Curator Elie Hughes said: "These are beautiful objects in themselves and fascinating because they can tell us so much. I am amazed by how far people carried the stone to make their axes."

The exhibition runs until Friday, October 26. Admission is £3 for adults, concessions £2.50 and accompanied children pay no charge.

On the trail of ghosts

PREPARE to be spooked by ghouls on a ghost tour of Ely. Blue badge guide Margaret Haynes leads the tour from Ely Museum and the story of prisoners from the condemned cells at the Bishop's prison is not for the faint-hearted.

The tour starts at 7pm on Saturday, October 27. Tickets cost £5, including refreshments at the museum and the minimum age for participants is seven. Places are limited so prior booking is essential. Call in at the museum or ring (01353) 666655 for tickets.

Fake bomb scare by neighbour from hell

A NIGHTMARE neighbour left a fake bomb in her home on the day she was due to be evicted labelled "Tick, Tock, Tick, Tock, BOOM!"

The stunt caused a major scare, prompting police to evacuate dozens of homes and call out an army bomb disposal team, which carried out a controlled explosion on the dummy device.

Tenant Amanda Copley left her housing association home early on the day of the eviction, apparently bringing her disruptive family's presence in the neighbourhood to an uncharacteristically quiet end.

But shortly after she left, neighbours noticed water flooding out of the property, and called police and firefighters to deal with the problem.

When officers got into the house they found water cascading down the stairs from a bathroom, where taps had been left running, then made an even more shocking discovery.

In a final act of spite, Ms Copley had left a box in a hallway with wires taped to it and the chilling words "Tick, Tock, Tick, Tock BOOM!" daubed across it in red.

Police immediately evacuated neighbouring homes in Stephenson Close, March, and called in the bomb squad from an army base in Colchester.

Malcolm Shirley, a next door neighbour, said he had endured two years of hell living next to Ms Copley and her four children, adding: "It is the final insult."

He and his wife were forced to get an injunction order issued by a court to deal with their troublesome neighbour, which forbids Ms Copley from using threatening behaviour or violence or damaging property.

He said: "We have had two years of complete hell. This used to be a nice place to live but it has become a no-go area because of her and her kids.

"She has wrecked cars; her kids shout abuse and what we have lived through has been horrific. We are calling the police out all the time."

Ms Copley, speaking after she left the property on Monday morning, said: "I have lost everything including my home, and I am going to lose my children, they are going to be fostered."

"Two of my children have behavioural problems and I have been victimised because of that. There is no way I am going to apologise to my neighbours."

"Yes, I have played into their hands by losing my temper because they have taken it out on my children. The last thing I will ever do is apologise."

A spokeswoman for Cambridgeshire police said Ms Copley was wanted for questioning in connection with the incident, and said officers had been in contact with her since she had moved out of the property.

Asbo mum spared a prison sentence

AN ASBO mum been spared jail after she kicked a private school pupil in the head.

Susan Statham, 21, and two male friends terrorised a group of King's School Ely students who were enjoying a tea party, magistrates in Ely heard.

Statham who was slapped with an anti-social behaviour order (ASBO) in April, kicked a 15-year-old boy in the head and ribs as he lay on the floor bleeding from a broken nose.

She pleaded guilty to affray at a previous court hearing.

Magistrates heard the King's School pupils were set upon as they enjoyed a picnic on Cherry Hill in Ely on March 10.

Hamish Ross, chairman of the bench, told her to focus on her two-year-old daughter as he handed her a four-month suspended prison sentence with an 18-month supervision requirement.

Mr Ross said: "What had this group done to you? It was a vicious attack on a vulnerable victim."

He warned Statham, of New Barns Avenue, Ely, that any further offences will result in a jail sentence.

The attack took place before the ASBO came into force, so she was not prosecuted for a breach.

But, Statham faces a separate charge of breaching her order on August 1 by jumping in the River Great Ouse in Ely while drunk and shouting and swearing. She denies the charge and will be tried next month.

Drink-driver is banned

A DRINK-DRIVER has been disqualified after his plans went awry on a night out.

Magistrates in Ely heard that Joseph Featherstone, 21, had planned to get a taxi home from Cambridge with friends, but the driver would only make one stop.

Featherstone, who lives in The Hamlet, Chettisham, then drove from a friend's house. He had 63 microgrammes of alcohol in 100 millilitres of breath. The legal limit is 35. Featherstone, who runs an animal bedding factory, was disqualified for 16 months and ordered to pay a fine of £150, £60 costs and the £15 victim surcharge.

Chairman steps down

AN AGENCY that helps vulnerable people adapt their homes has a new chairman. Coun Fred Brown has stepped down after 15 years as chairman of Care and Repair East Cambridgeshire, with Roderick Mair taking over.

Jim Paice MP was among those who gathered to thank Coun Brown for his leadership. Care and Repair helps elderly and disabled people carry out adaptations to their homes.

Coffee break for firefighters

FIREFIGHTERS raised the temperature in their HQ by serving up some piping hot coffee to help people suffering from cancer.

Fire crews in Ely were taking part in the World's Biggest Coffee Morning for Macmillan Cancer Support.

The fire station in Egremont Street was open to the public from 10am to noon, with plates of tempting biscuits enticing visitors inside, where they could have a look round and learn more about fire safety.

Donations were collected for Macmillan Cancer Support, which provides medical, emotional and financial support for those suffering from cancer and campaigns for better care.

Brett Mills, crew manager at Ely fire station, said: "Sadly, it seems that everyone these days has been affected by cancer in some way, whether they have experienced it first hand or had a family member, colleague or friend with the illness.

"As firefighters who are trained to actively preserve life, it can often be difficult to watch somebody close suffer and feel so helpless.

"By taking part in this event, we are actively doing our bit to help fight this disease."

Man who grabbed debtor admits assault

A MAN has been given a suspended jail sentence after assaulting an acquaintance who owed him money.

Mark Gillett, 20, of Gateway Gardens, Ely, cornered Robert Bailey in some public toilets, magistrates in Ely heard.

Gillett admitted a charge of assault. He was given a four-month sentence, suspended for two years, and ordered to pay £100 costs.

The court heard that Mr Bailey went to the area outside the Paradise Leisure Centre in Ely on March 7 and saw Gillett with a group.

Mr Bailey agreed to pay

Gillett £10 of the money he owed him and left his mobile phone as security while he visited a cash machine, magistrates were told.

But when he returned he became uneasy about meeting Gillett and tried to make the switch via someone else in the toilets.

Katie Tindall, prosecuting, said: "Mr Gillett went into the area himself and demanded £10 from Mr Bailey. He grabbed hold of him and held him up against the wall. Mr Bailey was injured, though quite clearly there were other parties involved."

Have a say on budget

TWO councils want to hear from the public on how they should set their budgets for next year.

Cambridgeshire County Council and East Cambridgeshire District Council will hold a roadshow to get people's views tomorrow in Ely Market Square.

Coun Brian Ashton, leader of East Cambridgeshire District Council, said: "Listening to the public and taking time to hear their ideas is vital for all local authorities."

The event will run from 10am-4pm.

Bid for cash machine

MARKET town residents could have an extra cash machine.

Nationwide wants to install an ATM at its branch in Clay Street, Soham.

The company has submitted a planning application for the machine to East Cambridgeshire District Council.

Three arrests in hunt for gang

BY John Morgan
Email: editorial@
elyweeklynews.co.uk

TWO men and a woman have been arrested by police investigating a series of armed robberies across Cambridgeshire and West Norfolk.

The men, aged 47 and 24, and a 44-year-old woman were arrested by armed officers at a house in Millfield, Littleport last Wednesday in a joint operation between Cambridgeshire and Norfolk police.

They were later released on police bail and enquiries are continuing.

Gangs of up to five balaclava-clad men armed with guns have demanded cash at family homes and businesses in Upwell, Northwold, Nordelph, Stowbridge, North Runcton, Elm, Weeting and Wereham last month, firing shots in their last two attempts.

In addition to firearms, gang members have brandished a sword, a hatchet and a metal bar.

They have assaulted several of their victims, including a man in his 70s.

Police officers and crime scene investigators carried out a detailed search and forensic examination of the house in Littleport.

Det Insp Mark Beresford, of Norfolk police's major investigation team, said: "The arrests are a significant development in our investigation into the recent series of armed robberies in the West Norfolk and Fen area."

"However, I will underline that this inquiry is still very much active and I can assure the local community that we are committed to identifying all those responsible and bringing them to justice.

"There will continue to be considerable police activity in the coming days and weeks in connection with these events and the additional police resources in this area will remain in place for the foreseeable future."

Additional police resources have been put in place in the west of Norfolk in response to the offences, including extra armed police units and regular patrols.

After each robbery attempt, the gang fled in a maroon-coloured Vauxhall Vectra.

They gained several thousand pounds in one of the robberies, but left empty-handed on the last three occasions.

Development is inevitable

Sir, I have been considering Amy Brady's letter ("Development not welcome here", Ely Weekly News, September 20). As she made some personal accusations, so I will answer her points one by one:

■ Amy looks after her own back yard, and wants to keep it as nature intended. I, too, believe we should all look after our environment, but if we kept it as nature intended we would be living in the middle of a great deal of water and Ely as well as Little Downham would still be an island. The point being, development has been going on since we lived in caves, population is increasing, society is changing, and development will happen regardless.

■ Amy doesn't want flats or a car park. My reply is, some people want to live in flats. She might not like them, but they probably do. I repeat that I want the best for Ely, which will include homes that families can afford. Some should be expensive and some less so. I also assume she does not own a car, so never needs to park it.

■ Who mentioned a concrete jungle? At the risk of repeating, I want the best for Ely, including good quality jobs and homes so people don't have to travel out of the area.

■ With regard to global warming, who hasn't heard of it? I am trying to do my bit, like most people, living closer to work if possible and trying to recycle.

■ At least we agree on one point. I believe that money is not everything in life, but it is very important. Money must also be used and managed, not wasted or disrespected. Amy appears to have enough money, lucky for her. Not everyone is in that position. It is up to we local politicians to consult the interested parties, weigh up the options, then try our best to get the best deal and greatest value for money.

Finally, let me say one's values are a personal viewpoint, so what I see as valuable may not be the same as Amy. I would not impose my values on anyone. For instance, I value the architecture in Ely, also the convenience of being able to walk to Waitrose, but I also value the birds, trees and views of Cambridgeshire countryside.

Parking changes pose difficulties for workers

Sir, Due to the amount of people requesting information regarding the new car park regimes and the proposed new commuter car park, I felt it was necessary, through your pages, to advise people of the situation, at least, as the Ely Traders Association (ETA) understands it.

The council is trying to accommodate all relevant parties, ie residents, shop/office workers, commuters and shoppers, and the ETA has been asked for its input into this process but, I fear, that there are still grave concerns.

To recap, the commuter car park is scheduled to open in December with the intention that commuters will no longer need to use the city centre car parks, thus relieving traffic congestion in the town and providing more visitor spaces. To ensure that the commuters use the new car park, as there will be a charge levied, the council will introduce time regimes. This equates to "you may not park for more than 90 minutes between 8am and 10am", thus preventing a commuter parking early morning for the day.

This will undoubtedly cause a massive reaction and I think it is unlikely that anyone will be able to judge how the different sectors will be affected until it actually happens. The ETA has been in favour of not introducing any regimes until the car park is opened, so we can react once we know the outcome, but the council will not entertain this option.

The two main sectors that stand to be adversely affected by the time regimes are shop/office workers and residents. The ETA has always felt a massive responsibility to the residents of Ely and villages, as it was their signatures on our petition that gave us the power to fight for the new car park and against charges. We have been working strongly to ensure that the best is done for everyone.

We can only hope that, with the commuters removed from the city car parks, there will be enough long-stay spaces for shop/office workers. It is, however, impossible under the proposed regimes for a worker to be in the workplace before 8.30am. To solve this problem, the ETA has undertaken a survey to identify how many shop workers fit this category, and the council have commented that they will be prepared to issue "permits" for those affected.

The remaining problem is for residents who need to use the city car parks as they have no provision for parking near their homes. The ETA has been fighting very strongly for these people and has suggested that a permit should also be issued to these residents, exempting them from the early-morning regime. Most people move their cars during the course of the day, most days, but it could cause great inconvenience to an elderly resident or residents with young children to have to move their car before 8.30am and, potentially, several times during the day. We fear that this could lead to greater congestion in residential areas.

Residents who feel that they are in this position should write to the council now, stating that they have no parking provision at their home and that they wish for a permit to be exempted from the morning regime. Send your letters to ECDC, attention of Coun T Goodge. This will help the council to judge who will be affected, and where. I have been assured that there is plenty of time for a permit system to be implemented although the time regime proposal has already been passed.

MEMORY LANE

Where and when?

■ THIS week's photograph is from our archives and shows four local boys celebrating sporting success. Do you recognise any of the boys or do you know where and when this picture was taken? Send your answers to: Memory Lane, 27 Market Place, Ely, CB7 4NP by Tuesday morning.

Picture: 435260.

■ Last week's photograph, from our archives showed winners of the Little Downham Conker Championships in 1976. John Rowell, of Mawson Close, Ely, wrote with more details. "The photograph was taken outside The Plough pub on completion of the first ever Little Downham Conker Championship, Sunday, October 3, 1976. The winner, Bob Pearson, who defeated Ken Grant in the final, was presented with the trophy by Mrs Oakey. Bob Pearson was entered and competed in the World Championships at Ashton the following Sunday, which, from memory, was won by a Mexican. Bill Barnett is in the background." Patricia Golding, of Main Street, Pymore, also correctly identified the scene.

Mum's warning to beware virus risks

MUM-of-two Karen Peacock had been feeling under the weather for 15 years, and despite frequent trips to the doctor no-one could pinpoint what was wrong with her.

But when she was having yet another blood test a nurse spotted her tattoos and realised Karen might have hepatitis C.

The test came back positive, and now after two years of treatment Karen is rid of the virus, but suffers from a damaged liver as a result and so is keen to raise awareness about hepatitis C.

Karen, from March, is involved with the Department of Health's hepatitis C awareness campaign faCe It, and she supported World Hepatitis Awareness Day on Monday.

She said: "I had vague type of flu symptoms, something I couldn't really put my finger on. I was getting lots of stabbing pains in the right side of my body, had stomach problems, and was feeling sick all the time. "I was tested for absolutely everything but the doctors just didn't know what was wrong with me."

When Karen was 15 she had numerous DIY tattoos done in a friend's bedroom with a pot of Indian ink and a sewing needle, and she believes that is how she got hepatitis C.

She said: "It is going to affect my life forever. It's vital people know more about hepatitis C so they know what risks to avoid. It is also vital to tell your friends and family if you do have it."

Around 200,000 people in England are estimated to have hepatitis C.

There are no vaccines to protect against the virus, which can cause serious damage to the liver, and many people are often unaware they have it.

Visit www.hepc.nhs.uk or call the hepatitis C information line on 0800 451451 from 7am-11pm.

Teen remanded by magistrates

A TEENAGER charged with burglary and receiving stolen goods has been remanded in custody.

Adam Bishop-Bridges, appeared before magistrates in Ely last Thursday charged with breaking into a house in Witchford on September 4 and stealing mobile phones, house keys, a digital camera, iPod, purse, wallet, money, credit cards, watch and car keys.

He is also charged with dishonestly receiving stolen goods belonging to Christopher and Gorina Horne, and stolen goods belonging to Rachael Hamilton, on the same day.

Bishop-Bridges, 18, of Christopher Tye Close, Ely, did not enter pleas and magistrates adjourned the case until October 18 when they will commit it to Crown Court. Bail was refused.

Keeping track of seven swans

SUPER whoopers are being tracked on their travels across Europe. Hundreds of whooper swans visit the Wildfowl and Wetlands Trust (WWT) reserve at Welney each winter and the Fen site, a major international centre for the birds.

Now the WWT has launched an online satellite tracking project.

Visitors to the group's site can follow the movement of seven swans as they prepare for the journey from their breeding grounds in Iceland to wintering sites in Britain and Ireland.

WWT researchers travelled to Iceland last month as part of the Lough Neagh Wetlands Whooper Swan Project where they teamed up with biologists from Iceland and the Irish Whooper Swan Study Group to catch some 400 swans during their flightless annual moult. Each one was measured and ringed and seven of the largest, healthiest swans were selected and fitted with transmitters. A swan called Gudjohnsen, named after the Icelandic ex-Chelsea

Dredging 'needed to cut flood risk'

BY John Morgan

Email: editorial@elyweeklynews.co.uk

FAILURE to dredge rivers has left the city exposed to the possibility of catastrophic floods, a river expert has warned.

Brian Carter, a former member of the Great Ouse River Authority, believes Ely has been put at risk of severe flooding by the Environment Agency's reluctance to dredge the Great Ouse.

Mr Carter, 80, warns that water will be held in the city in the event of flooding because the river's capacity has been lowered. He has measured the depth at Ely as seven feet at points, compared with a depth of 16 feet when it was dredged in 1952.

He said: "At Ely, the river depth is very, very low under the railway bridge and the thing is that floodwater builds up. You can open the gates at Denver Sluice, but it still builds up."

"I have taken it up with the Environment Agency, but their new idea is that anything they dredge up is infectious material. But you dump it on the bank and the grass grows through it. Also, they are frightened of disturbing molluscs. The whole thing is just stupid."

Mr Carter, who lives in Hemingford Abbots, said dredging was regarded as essential after the floods that hit the east of England in 1947 and he wants a return to the old ways.

He said: "Dredging was just routine - the same as you would get someone to sweep the streets in Cambridge."

The Environment Agency has previously said that dredging can damage delicate life in rivers and actually increase the risk of flooding by creating smooth channels which speed up water flow.

But it did clear silt build-up in the Great Ouse at Denver Sluice and Salters Lode in April this year as well as undertaking "agitation work" in the tidal stretch of the river. That was part of work to ensure that boats were able to reach the Inland Waterways Association festival in St Ives.

A spokeswoman for the Environment Agency said there had been no change to policy on de-silting, but that "it is something we often look at." Work on an Ely Ouse Strategy was ongoing.

Secondary schools will have to cope

NO NEW secondary schools are planned for East Cambridgeshire in the next 18 years, although the district is one of the fastest-growing in the East of England.

East Cambridgeshire District Council's draft core strategy for growth up to 2025 says new primary schools will be needed in Ely and Soham, but that existing secondary schools can be expanded on-site.

Some members of the council's strategic development committee believe a new secondary school must be built to prevent existing village and community colleges turning into huge "urban-style" schools. They are also calling for a new sixth-form college to reduce the number of youngsters commuting to Cambridge.

The core strategy will go out for public consultation before becoming part of the Local Development Framework.

A recent study for the East of England Development Agency predicts that East Cambridgeshire will be one of the fastest-growing areas in the East of England, with a 50 per cent increase in jobs and a 28.5 per cent population increase to 102,400 by 2031.

Ely's Lantern Primary School opened in 2004 to cope with population growth. Littleport has no secondary school and the City of Ely Community College makes the district's only provision for sixth-form students.

Strategic development committee member Coun Mike Rouse, who represents Ely North, said: "There is only so much some of our rural comprehensives can grow before they become like an urban comprehensive."

A spokesman for Cambridgeshire County Council, said: "We continuously look at demographic and social trends, and this does not suggest a need for a new secondary school in East Cambridgeshire in the near or medium-term future."

"However, our forecasts are reviewed regularly, and if the situation were to change we would reconsider our plans."

Monster pumpkins pull crowds

GIANTS of the vegetable world were on show at East Anglia's only pumpkin fair. The 33rd annual Soham Pumpkin Fair drew the crowds on Saturday. It was also the second year of the D T Brown National Pumpkin Championship, with the nation's finest specimens on show.

Forget the tiddlers you might hollow out for Hallowe'en – the ones on show at Soham are the real thing. The national championship is open only to growers who produce a pumpkin heavier than 198lb. But they will always struggle to equal the heaviest pumpkin ever grown. The Guinness Book of Records marks that down as the 1,469lb beast presented by Larry Checkon at the Pennsylvania Giant Pumpkin Growers' Association weigh-off on October 1, 2005. Crowds at the Soham event, which has raised over £30,000 for local charities since it started in 1974, also enjoyed a classic car exhibition.

Have a say

TWO councils want to hear from the public on how they should set their budgets for next year.

Cambridgeshire County Council and East Cambridgeshire District Council will hold a roadshow to get people's views on board tomorrow in Ely's Market Square.

Coun Brian Ashton, leader of East Cambridgeshire District Council, said: "Listening to the public and taking time to hear their ideas is vital for all local authorities."

The event will run from 10am to 4pm.

City scenes

UNUSUAL images of local scenes can be viewed at a history event.

Historian Mike Petty will show how artists and engravers have been depicting Ely through the centuries at Ely Library on October 12 at 10.30am.

Mr Petty will discuss how developments on the internet have revealed some intriguing images.

The meeting costs £2. For more information, call Mike Petty on (01353) 648106.

Councils ready to oppose Mereham

BY John Morgan

Email: editorial@elyweeklynews.co.uk

VILLAGERS and council officers will challenge the might of a multinational construction company as they fight plans for a 5,000-home new town.

An independent planning inquiry into Multiplex Stannifer's proposed Mereham development on the A10 starts on Tuesday at the Robert Arkenstall Centre in Haddenham, and local residents plan to hold a noisy protest outside.

Inside, Cambridgeshire County Council and East Cambridgeshire District Council will join forces to argue that Mereham, which the councils estimate could have a population as high as 12,500, would be an unsustainable town dropped onto an isolated rural location causing traffic havoc on the A10 and B1049 into Cambridge.

But some councillors have warned that Multiplex, the company that built the new Wembley Stadium, may capitalise on delays to the Northstowe development and argue that Mereham is a solution to the Cambridge area's housing shortage.

Villagers plan protest at new town inquiry

Though locally elected district councillors rejected the plans at a planning committee meeting in January 2006, the final decision will be made by the Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government, Hazel Blears.

The six-week inquiry will see the two councils put their case first, possibly starting as early as the first day, then local residents and Multiplex will have their say.

The planning inspector will then recommend a decision to Ms Blears.

Coun Philip Read, a county councillor who is also chairman of the district council's planning committee, said: "The impact which this proposed new town will make would be catastrophic.

"We are not afraid of new developments in East Cambridgeshire and in the right place, with the correct infrastructure, they can become a valuable part of the community.

"Mereham is neither in the right place or planned with the necessary infrastructure to succeed.

"The biggest problem with Mereham is the traffic it is going to generate and access to Cambridge.

"If all we are going to do is create a dormitory for Cambridge, that is not right."

The two councils will be represented by barrister Simon Bird in their fight against Multiplex, which last month announced a yearly turnover of £1.4 billion and profits of £220 million.

The councils are so frustrated by Multiplex's decision to appeal against the original planning committee decision that they want the company to pay their costs in preparing for the inquiry, which they say could go as high as £250,000.

For Homeowners over 60 - the potential for extra income

“Equity Release”

You may have heard the term – but know little or nothing about it - what it involves and who might benefit from it.

Equity Release is a method of raising money from residential property.

There are two basic methods of ‘releasing equity’ and both are designed to convert some or all of the value of a home into income and/or capital.

To unlock some of the money tied up in a home without having to move, a Lifetime Mortgage might be suitable. Nothing would have to be paid back until death or moving into long term care. Alternatively, part or all of the property may be sold to provide funds.

Equity Release is normally suitable only for people well over 60, who own their property, but find that their pension provision and other arrangements don’t allow them to live the life they want in retirement.

It is important that, where a family exists, their involvement should be sought to help arrive at a suitable solution to meet the need, whereas for those without family, equity release could be more straightforward.

Whatever the reason, the process may be the solution to an otherwise seemingly insoluble predicament - but! This method of raising money should be embarked upon with utmost care and, importantly, where all other options have been exhausted.

To understand the features, implications and risks involved you should seek advice and ask for a personal illustration. Such arrangements could affect your tax position, your eligibility for means-tested benefits and your ability to move or sell your home. They will also reduce any inheritance you might wish to leave. Terms and conditions and qualifying criteria apply.

For this or any other aspect of financial planning - talk to CamOuse.

Man is fined after lashing out over flag

“ANTI-WELSH” graffiti daubed on a sleeping man’s body led him to breach a restraining order slapped on him for beating up his wife, a court has heard.

Welshman Richard Samuel, 31, woke up after a party at his home in Littleport to find a Union flag had been drawn on his body, magistrates in Ely were told.

The court heard that Samuel was so angered by the graffiti that he smashed a storage unit and drew a swear word on the wall of the home he shared with wife Janet Samuel.

That breached the restraining order Samuel was given after he attacked Mrs Samuel in February, knocking out several of her teeth.

The order banned him from assaulting or harassing his wife, but did not stop him moving back into their home.

Samuel, now of Aspen Close, Ely, pleaded guilty to breaching the order by causing his wife harassment and also admitted one count of possessing cannabis.

Magistrates fined him £350 for the breach and £200 for possession of cannabis, as well as ordering him to pay £100 costs and the £15 victim surcharge.

BY John Morgan

Email: editorial@elyweeklynews.co.uk

The incident occurred on August 12 after a party to celebrate the sale of the couple’s home, the court heard.

Katie Tindall, prosecuting, told magistrates that Samuel had confronted his wife after he discovered the drawings, shouting “who f*****g done it?” Ms Tindall said that Mrs Samuel activated her police alarm, before Samuel smashed a storage unit and wrote a swear word and the words “love” and “hate” on the wall.

Ms Tindall added that the fact the couple had still been living together after the restraining order “had not been an ideal situation”.

Sandeep Kainth, mitigating, said: “In light of the party, people consumed alcohol. Mr Samuel did absolutely nothing wrong and fell asleep. When he woke up there were drawings on his body, face and arms.”

“He is Welsh. One person drew the Union Jack, which annoyed him because he believed they were rubbing his nose in it when they know full well he is Welsh.”

Mr Kainth said that Samuel had lashed out to release frustration.

Artist unveils stunning new sculptures

STUNNING sculptures of the female form ranging in size from miniatures to larger than life size are going on display at an Ely gallery.

The Babylon Gallery is hosting a stunning new exhibition called Creation Regained by Cambridge-based artist Christine Fox, opening on Saturday at 2pm.

The works in the exhibition are influenced by ancient iconic stone carvings of the female figure and explore the endless balancing of relationships and interchange between the sea, forests and land.

Caroline Cawley, marketing manager for the gallery, said: “Some of the sculptures are enchanting miniatures, small enough to hold in the palm of your hand, others are over two metres tall.

“They have been made using a variety of methods, some fired as terracotta, others cast into bronze and aluminium using methods of lost wax, sand or plaster moulding.

“The metal sculptures are supported by natural materials – wood, stone, or mineral which have been carved to add meaning to each sculpture. Christine has created a beautiful and evocative exhibition within the gallery space.”

The show will run until November 11.

As part of the gallery’s commitment to developing new talent, selected works from Tracy Bonsall, Monique Brown, and Jonathan Neald, three recent graduates from the fine art degree at Anglia Ruskin University, will be on display.

For more information on the exhibition visit www.babylongallery.co.uk

District may need a new town says councillor

A FAST-GROWING district may have to accept a major new development to relieve the burden on its expanding towns, a councillor has said.

East Cambridgeshire District Council has set out its preferred options for growth, with a minimum of 6,789 homes to come by 2025 – 1,708 in Ely, 1,271 in Soham and 1,330 in Littleport.

At a meeting of the council's strategic development committee, Coun Ian Allen said the plans rely too much on "windfall" housing, small-scale developments mainly on brownfield sites in Ely, Soham and Littleport. Coun Allen believes that a planned new town may be better than filling in the gaps in the three big centres, but stressed his opposition to the proposed Mereham development near Wilburton.

He said: "Windfall doesn't do a great service to the communities it happens in – some important spaces can be lost.

"If we had a new development, you could do something more radical about the sort of houses you produce. I think we do need to think more willingly about a new development – which isn't Mereham because the plans are awful."

Coun Mike Rouse told the meeting that the Government is likely to make greater demands on East Cambridgeshire than the preferred options for the core strategy envisage.

He said: "This is an underestimate of what will be required locally."

The council's preferred options will go out for public consultation before becoming part of the area's Local Development Framework, the blueprint for growth up to 2025.

New acoustic sound from a rising talent

THE new face of alt.folk arrives at The Graduate in Cambridge on Saturday when Laura Marling takes the stage. Currently on her second EP, Marling is being feted as one of the potential leaders of the new acoustic sound despite being still only 17. She's been likened to Regina Spektor and Carole King, and her debut EP inspired one NME writer to wax: "If I listen to New Romantic one more time I may just propose to her myself." She's been playing guitar from the age of three when her dad first taught her the blues and was signed up to Virgin Records after being spotted supporting Jamie T. She has also recently collaborated with indie heroes The Rakes on their track, Suspicious Eyes. Tickets are £5 and support comes from Noah and the Whale and King Charles.

Journey to Wales for quirky village stories

By John Morgan

■ VILLAGE LIFE EXPOSED . . . in Dylan Thomas's Under Milk Wood, performed by Oxfordshire Touring Company.

THE DREAMS and obsessions of quirky characters living in a small village are laid bare in a new performance of a classic play.

The Soham Pavilion hosts the Oxfordshire Touring Theatre Company's production of Under Milk Wood by Dylan Thomas on Saturday.

The play looks at the lives of residents of the fictional Welsh seaside village of Llareggub. There is Mrs Ogmore-Pritchard, relentlessly bossing about her two dead husbands, Captain Cat who relives his seafaring times and Organ Morgan, the musical obsessive.

Sign language is used throughout in this production, with deaf actor David Ellington having adapted the script into British Sign Language.

First recorded as a radio play for the BBC in 1954, Under Milk Wood also became a stage play and later a film.

The 1972 film version saw Richard Burton reprise his role, with other parts played by Elizabeth Taylor and Peter O'Toole.

In 1988, George Martin produced an album version, featuring music by himself and Elton John.

The Soham performance starts at 7.30pm. To book tickets, call (01353) 624 932.

Women are choosing property

A GROWING number of women are turning away from pensions and husbands to provide for their retirement and are instead looking at property to provide for their future. So says ThePropertyInvestmentMarket.com (TPIM), which has seen a significant growth in the number of women investors buying and selling shares in residential property on its online exchange.

Traditionally, women have relied on their husbands to support them in old age. But with rising divorce rates and more women staying single, they now need to ensure they provide for their own future.

One in four buy-to-let investors is estimated to be female. This growth has been helped by the popularity of TV shows like Property Ladder, which has made property investing seem much more accessible. Investors like the fact that property is a tangible asset, that they understand and can see how it might grow in value.

By 2020, more women than men will have the final say on household financial matters, according to a recent report. Women are now catching up men in terms of pay with those in their twenties now earning 96 per cent of men's wages. By 2030 one in four women will be the main breadwinner in the family.

Stephen Kenny, chief executive of TPIM, believes that one of the main reasons women are turning towards property is because the traditional pensions market is still male-centred: "Women get a raw deal when it comes to pensions. Generally they earn less which makes their contributions smaller, and they are also more likely to take a career break for children or to care for elderly relatives, which again affects contributions.

"Unlike pensions, property investment is much more flexible and because it is not linked to earnings it isn't affected by working patterns and can be fitted around family life. Property is also very tax-efficient for investors who are not working, as you only need to pay the base rate tax on investment.

"From our perspective we have seen a significant rise in the number of women using the exchange. The great appeal of property is that they feel they understand it. Unlike other forms of investment, the concept is straightforward and the rewards are easy to see."

YOUR GUIDE TO MOVING HOME

1 Moving home can be a complicated business and, in the hectic run to the big day, it is all too easy to forget something vital. The Property News offers their readers this handy checklist that should help avoid major pitfalls. We suggest you tick off the items as you deal with them...

WITH FOUR WEEKS TO GO:

- Get estimates from removal companies, checking that comprehensive insurance cover is available against damage or loss. Is there a packing and unpacking service? Confirm the date of your move with the firm you have chosen.
- Check on your home contents insurance policies to ensure that you are covered for the move, and covered at your new address.
- Make arrangements for your gas and electricity meters (plus water meters where relevant) to be read and all your appliances to be disconnected on the day of your move.
- Arrange to take over gas and electricity at your new address, and make sure that all appliances will be properly fitted, plumbed or connected.
- Notify British Telecom and ask them to make the necessary arrangements for a final account at your present address, and for taking over or installing telephone facilities at your new home.
- Arrange for change of address cards to be printed.

WITH TWO WEEKS TO GO:

- Confirm all arrangements, times etc, for meter readings, disconnections and reconnections, with authorities and with your buyer and seller.
- Make sure you have a good stock of packing materials, including sturdy boxes and plenty of string and sticky tape.
- Begin to throw out unwanted items from attics, wardrobes. What you really don't want you may as well dump now, or send to charity. It's a great time for a good sort out!

WITH ONE WEEK TO GO:

- Send off change of address cards.
- Arrange and pay for automatic redirection of your mail by the Post Office.
- Cancel and pay up accounts for routine delivery services such as milk, groceries, fuel and your Cambridge Evening News. Re-organise these deliveries for your new address.
- Defrost refrigerators in preparation for move and, if you are moving a freezer and its contents, turn it up to maximum for a couple of days before you move.

WITH ONE DAY TO GO:

- Complete your packing except for those items you are likely to need overnight, and prepare a picnic for moving day.
- Have a large enough cash 'float' available to deal with unexpected expenses, and make sure you have collected documents and valuables together in a safe place.
- Cover carpets which are being left behind, so as to minimise damage during furniture removal.
- Check through previous lists to make sure nothing has been overlooked, then enjoy a worry-free early night!

2 ON MOVING DAY:

- Strip beds and pack bedding and nightclothes.
- Pack items for washing/toiletries.
- Take down curtains.
- Take up rugs, carpets, floor coverings, as required.
- Dismantle any light fittings etc., not included in the sale.
- Turn off electric appliances.
- Disconnect cooker.
- Turn off boiler/central heating.
- Turn off water.
- Read gas meter.
- Read electricity meter.
- Secure all windows.
- Lock all doors.
- Leave key as arranged with new owners.
- On arrival at your new home, unpack slowly and methodically so that you can check for loss or damage.

3 EXTRA HINTS FOR A SMOOTH MOVE...

Mini wins Green Grand Prix title

MINI took the chequered flag in the Autocar 2007 Green Grand Prix with a combination of great economy, low carbon dioxide emissions and the well renowned fun factor.

Tested against some of the UK's most environmentally friendly cars, the Mini Cooper D triumphed in both absolute fuel consumption and how close its fuel consumption got to the manufacturer's claimed figures.

Autocar concluded that it is "A highly entertaining econo-car and an enjoyable way to save." The motoring magazine also stated that the Mini Cooper D is the best way to "save and smile".

Technologies introduced in August 2007 have now pitched the new Mini Cooper D, along with all other Mini models including the recently launched clubman, firmly into hybrid car levels of economy and emissions.

Brake energy regeneration, an instantly responsive stop-start system, and an optimum gear shift indicator push the car towards a combined 72 miles per gallon target.

'Give us help to go green'

INTEREST in green wheels is soaring as 1.3 million motorists in the East of England are prepared to splash out £700 million on environmentally friendly vehicles, according to a new report.

The figures released this week by EDF Energy highlight a growing desire among motorists in the East of England to reduce their carbon footprint. However, despite their willingness to splash the cash, the majority of drivers in the East of England (91 per cent) feel

Motorists in eco-drive bid

they don't know enough about greener alternatives such as Electric Vehicles (EVs), to be able to make the purchase. A staggering 89 per cent of those surveyed couldn't name a model of EV and 79 per cent wouldn't know where they would recharge one.

The revealing findings show just how little understanding motorists in the East of England have about eco driving, which is proving to be a major barrier to their green aspirations:

■ A startling 14 per cent are under the impression that EVs run on petrol

■ 28 per cent are unsure whether they would need to apply for a new licence and 14 per cent of people worry that they would have to pay additional road tax in order to drive an EV

■ 68 per cent of motorists wouldn't know where to purchase an electric vehicle

In light of the research findings EDF Energy has joined forces with Elektromotive, manufacturers of recharging bays for EVs. The partnership is committed to providing 250 Elektro-bay recharging systems to local councils throughout the UK by March, 2008. The resulting aim of the scheme is to make EVs more user-friendly and help people reduce their carbon footprint.

Councils who have committed to installing charging posts include Sheffield Borough Council, Islington Borough Council, Camden Council and Lambeth Council.

Peter Thorn, head of innovation and partnerships at EDF Energy, comments: "The research shows that drivers are increasingly demanding transport options that don't have such a detrimental effect on the world we live in."

YOUTH FOOTBALL REVIEW

Smart Alex hits leaders

Soham United u-11 1 Histon Hornets 1
SOHAM shrugged off three defeats on the run to take a point. After a goalless first half Histon caught Soham cold to take the lead. Soham dug in and a brilliant solo run from Alex Theobold gave his side a deserved draw. Man of the match for Soham was Jordan Chambers.

Witchford u-9s 2 Isleham 3
WITCHFORD scored early on when Ben Lymer netted. However, Isleham levelled from the kick-off. Then a defensive mistake allowed Isleham to take the lead. The home side equalised through Lymer but it was Isleham who got the winner.

Bottisham u-13s 1 Stretham Sporting 7
STRETHAM got back to winning ways with goals from Will Crisp (3), Craig Lawrence (3) and Harry Thomson. But victory wasn't without scares and Will Holmes' double save at 2-1 was crucial.

Ely City u-15 2 Newmarket Town 5
ELY took a deserved lead when Frazer Shipp slotted home. Newmarket then raced into a 4-1 lead. City found hope when Matt Waites volleyed in. City went close through Will Law and Ryan Howell, but in the end it was the visitors who finished the scoring. Alex Newton was man of the match.

Haverhill u-14s 1 Ely Crusaders 8
ELY secured another good victory, topped by a hat-trick from Alfa Balde. Luke Hayes and Ryan Lowe got two with Cameron Robb sealing it.

Crusaders: George Bannister, Joe Dalton, Jake Hopkin, Michael FD, Alex Minall, Lewis Buxton, Nick Kyndt, Alfa Balde, Ryan Lowe, Cameron Robb, Luke Hayes, Jacques Odell Rourke, Daniel Twinn, Daniel Jones, Pawel Kalasa.

Witchford u-12 girls 3 Cambourne 2
WITCHFORD came back from 2-0 down to win with goals from Georgia Day (2) and Hannah Dewey.

Witchford: Megan Holden, Hannah Dewey, Chloe Minall, Chloe Mynott, Zoe MacDonald, Sarah Lappin, Hollie Augustus, Rebecca Lowe, Georgia Day, Leanne Wilding, Eleanor Grace, Esme Wright.

Soham Town u-17s 0 Fulbourn 0
SOHAM put on a spirited display but found it difficult to break down a well organised Falcon side who confidently won this League cup tie.

Drewery hammers a magnificent seven

Comberton u-15s 1 Soham T 8
SOHAM went ahead when Elliot Drewery cleverly chipped the keeper for the first of seven goals. Drewery then headed Soham's second and added two more to make the score 4-1 at half time. Soham played some good football after the break and Dan Sadler fed Dan Whitwell to score Soham's fifth. At this stage Drewery was running riot and he added a further three goals to cap a superb individual performance.

Soham: Charlie Wills, Josh Heaps, Dan Sadler, Simon Murfitt, Dan Brook, Dan Whitwell, James Seymour, Josh Nunn, Graham Carson, Ryan Saban, Elliot Drewery, Ryan Brook, Joel Frey, Dalton Isaacson, Dan Driver.

Willingham u-11 0 Ely Crusaders 6
A STUNNING Conor Logan hat-trick led Crusaders to their second victory over Willingham in five days. Having already beaten them 6-1 in the Colts League, Crusaders were out to prove the margin of victory was no fluke in this cup tie. Dominic Hunt opened the scoring for Ely after nine minutes. Ryan Dean, who gave another battling display in midfield, played the ball to the feet of striker Mitchell Morse. He fed it into the path of Hunt who buried his shot in the corner. Morse was also the provider three minutes later when he played a looping cross into the box and Logan met it with a deft flick. The visitors went 3-0 up when Morse set up Hunt, whose volley dipped over the keeper for his second. Logan then struck again, seizing on a pass from Charlie Root and shooting beyond the keeper. Will Stephens then lobbed the keeper before man-of-the-match Logan wrapped things up with a volley for his hat-trick.

Ely Crusaders: Liam Walker, Aiden Merry, Athi Ambhi, Tejay O'Keefe, Jamie

JORDAN Theobold and William Ellis hit the target as Isleham u-13s fought back to beat Histon 2-1. Pictured are the Isleham side in their new kit sponsored by Tony Wilkinson of SBI Standards for Business. cp Simper, Charlie Root, Ryan Dean, Conor Logan, Dominic Hunt, Mitchell Morse, Tom Walker, Will Stephens, Fraser Crossman, Joe Minar.

Witchford u-10b 0 Ely Crusaders 6
ELY continued their good form based on fine defensive performances from Alexander Ellwood, Ben Haynes, Edward Kratz, Rhys Peckham and Kyle Thurston. Samuel Lowe got a brace, Max Wright hit a hat-trick before Samuel Quarrier scored to secure the win. Witchford's man of the match was Euan Gilmour.

Witchford: Daniel Chapman, Ruairidh MacDonald, Matthew Loades, Nathan Francis, Harry Braybrooke, Daniel Scott, Euan Gilmour, Nathan Parker, George Smith.

Ely: Alexander Ellwood, Alfie Green, Ben Haynes, Edward Kratz, Christopher Lewis, Finley Logan, Samuel Lowe, Rhys Peckham, Samuel Quarrier, Kyle Thurston, Max Wright.

Mepal u-9s 6 Stretham 0
GEORGE Rayner struck the opening goal for Mepal while defensive lynchpins James Knox, Thomas Smith, Joe-Joe Corlito and Joshua Fenner also worked well as a unit. Shane Whatley had a fine game, scoring two goals and proved a thorn in Stretham's side with his pace and trickery. The other scorers for Mepal were Corlito, Kassem Silvain and a first strike for Daniel Oakland on his debut. Mepal's man of the match was George Rayner.

Mepal Sports: Kassem Silvain, George Rayner, James Knox, Joshua Fenner, Thomas Smith, Jacob Waters, Shane Whatley, Harrison Jones, Daniel Oakland, Joe-Joe Corlito.

Ramsey u-13s b 3 Lt Downham E 10
EAGLES opened the scoring when Nathan Grainger shot low past the goalkeeper. Harry Spencer side-footed home the second and two minutes later Grainger made it a brace from inside the box. Dan Burdin netted with a low angled drive as Eagles kept up the pressure and Liam Ball finished off a rebound off the post. Oliver Cowan grabbed the sixth and James Turner finished well for the seventh. Ramsey pulled one back for 7-1 but Burdin made it eight, only for Ramsey to reply. However, Grainger completed his treble, Ramsey made it 9-3 but then conceded a penalty which Burdin missed. The final Little Downham scorer was Jack Ure.

Burwell u-9 3 Haddenham 2
HADDENHAM fought back from 2-0 down only to be denied in the last minute. Burwell led with a rocket shot and added a second with a near post finish. Haddenham netted when Josh Lowe forced home from close range and Lowe levelled. However, Burwell nicked it late on.

Haddenham Rovers Colts: W Darlington, J Alsop, M Wright, J Lowe, N Threadgold, C Tunnell, J Alsop, M Beary, K Petty.

Saffron Walden u-11 4 Witchford 1
JOSH Murfitt's late goal was a consolation as Witchford were muscled out of it. Their man of the match was Tommy Corlito

IN BRIEF RUGBY UNION

Shirley, Tooth sparkle

ELY Tiger-10s were held by Huntingdon and defeated Shelford at the weekend. The first game, with Huntingdon, finished 10-10 with Joseph Shirley and Reuben Tooth touching down. In the second match, against Shelford, James Walton picked up two tries and Tooth scored his second of the day and William Craddock also got a try. Then in the final minute Thomas Bussell made it 25-0.

Tigers: Aaron Shergold, James Walton, Jonathan Garrod, Jordan Mould, Joseph Shirley, Kostja Vezanous, Mathew Cowx, Megan Humble, Nathan Dewing, Reuben Tooth, Ruairidh MacDonald, Thomas Bussell, William Craddock, William Hurst. ELY Tiger-14s worked hard for their 29-12 victory against a powerful Wisbech and Thorney side. Ely ran in five tries, Theo Ogier scored twice, Ollie Watts ran in one try and Adam Featherstone followed up with a score. Ollie Watts converted two tries to bring the Ely total up to 29 points.

Ely aces win IOW bowls title

ELY IBC's Gordon Fuller, William Foreman, Leslie Ramus and unattached Brian Warden won the Warner Leisure Hotels Champion of Champions bowls final, held on the Isle of Wight. In a competition open to over 1,200 players the Ely rink booked their place in the final after winning an earlier bowls break. In the 12-end final, opponents West Moors BC took them to the wire before lead skip Gordon Fuller held his nerve to concede just a single and the Champion of Champions title was home and dry.

Moore finds comfort as Tigers' misery continues

Stowmarket 22 Ely 0

TERRY Moore remained upbeat despite Ely's fourth Eastern Counties League defeat of the season.

After an error-strewn 10 minutes, Stowmarket scored a converted try to take the lead, but it was not until the second half that the hosts put more points on the board.

"The side played well and the mistakes made came from a committed but largely young and inexperienced side," said director of rugby Moore. "Such a team needs to take time to settle to the standard and learn quickly."

"There were many encouraging signs. It will be hard work and success may well be delayed, but there is time to make an impact in this league with graft on the training field."

Cambridge Exiles 12 Ely 2nd 43 A GOOD mix of old and young Tigers enjoyed a good win in their Greene King Premiere League clash. James Denning broke blind and crashed over to give the visitors a 5-0 lead. Pete Vousden then set up Mark Egerton to run in under the posts. Vousden converted for a 12-0 lead. Craig Rands was next on the scoresheet and Ely were 17-0 clear. But Cambridge hit back with 12 points to make it tight at half time. However, Tom Evans finished with a couple of sidesteps to score in the corner and extend the Tigers' lead to 12-22 soon into the second period. Ely's next score was the try of the match as scrum-half Lee Benzie broke blind and sold a dummy, chipped the full back, kicked on and gathered with a one-handed pick-up to score a fine individual try under the posts. Vousden converted for a more comfortable 29-12 scoreline. Ely were then awarded a penalty try and Vousden converted extending the Tigers lead to 12-36. Finally, Rands finished in the corner and Vousden converted.

NETBALL: ELY SPARKLE IN DERBY CLASH

ELY 2 turned on the style to defeat Stretham 34-19 in their netball clash. The first quarter was tight with Ely finishing four goals ahead, but they pulled away in the second quarter with some excellent finishing by Janice Quarrier and Trina Baldock. Player of the match was awarded to Baldock for her superb shooting. Pictured are, from the back, left to right, Janice Quarrier (captain), Sue Tune, Debbie Knott, Victoria Cutforth (vice-captain), Alison Crombie, Trina Baldock, Celeste Gordan and Sue Everett.

HOCKEY

Hislop and Hugo lead a goal rout

Ely City 5 Wisbech Town II 1

LAURIE Hislop and Ed Hugo scored two apiece as Ely enjoyed a five-star success against Wisbech Town II. Stuart Clarke put Chris Vincett's men ahead from a well-worked short corner and Hislop doubled the lead when he deflected Chris Roberts' powerful drive past the visiting goalkeeper.

The hosts continued to dominate the match after the interval and Ed Hugo latched onto a perfectly weighted through-ball from his brother Tommy and finished with aplomb, before Hislop showed his predatory instinct to notch from close range. Wisbech pulled one back against the run of play when the stranded Vincett was nutmegged, but Ed Hugo's clinical finish completed an emphatic opening day victory.

Ely Ladies 1st 5 Cambridge Un 3rd 0

ELY ran riot in a high-paced game but it took them some time to make the breakthrough. Gemma Voutt came close to opening the scoring when her strike ricocheted off the post. Jess Haw, on her debut for the first team, worked to distribute the ball around the midfield with Tessa Loots and Chanre Bond. Shortly before half time, Emily Kisby picked out Bond from a free hit and she put Ely ahead. The second half saw a few changes in the Ely team. While Haw took a well deserved rest, Sally Prentice returned as sweeper enabling Hannah Scotney to move up to centre midfield and Cathy Gilmour went to centre back. Ely continued to attack the game and it was not long before Bond doubled Ely's lead and then completed her hat-trick before two excellent strikes from Voutt made it 5-0.

Grey to take on the world

HELEN Grey, from Witchford, will be the first member of Ely Roller Skating Club to represent Great Britain at the World Roller Skating Championships which will be held later this year in Australia. Helen was selected after successfully competing at the European Championships in July. With 12 other skaters from both artistic and hockey regularly competing with the British Team abroad, the Club is on an all time high. The problem is finding funding for the skaters. Unfortunately, it is down to the skaters to fund themselves when skating abroad. Roller Skating in this country isn't yet a high-profile sport, and is (at present) not eligible for government funding. Anyone wishing to support the skaters should contact the club secretary on 01353 663453.

■ OFF DAY... Ely's Simon Warren, in red, was given his marching orders.

Cup of woe for Soham battlers

SOHAM'S failure to score for the first time this season saw their FA Cup dream come to an end at the second qualifying stage as Solihull Moors hit all their goals in the second half to seal a 3-0 win.

However, Rangers boss Ian Benjamin was proud of his players, who matched their rivals from Blue Square North.

The manager said: "Up until their first goal, the game looked like it had 0-0 written all over it, but we left ourselves a bit exposed at the back and we got punished. I didn't think the lads quite believed we could get the win, which was disappointing considering the results we've had lately."

"But all credit to the players, who put their all in again. We had a good run, but it just didn't go our way on the day." Soham more than stood their ground in a close first half, but neither side was really able to test each other's keeper.

But the visitors came out with a bang in the second half to hit all three goals within 20 minutes of the restart.

Soham got back into the game as the half wore on, but they seem to miss the presence of Darren Jimson up front to hold the ball as a lot of their attacks seemed to break down in the final third.

Charles Libam came closest to pulling a goal back for Rangers 12 minutes from the end, but his left-foot shot went just wide of the right-hand upright as the hosts ran out of time.

Benjamin's charges are back in cup action on Saturday when they go to Dereham in the first round of the FA Vase.

Lightning talks way into trouble

ELY manager Dennis Lightning was booked by the referee for his comments after the match as Ely suffered their first Ridgeons League, First Division defeat in six games with a 3-2 loss at Halstead.

The Robins boss was not amused after Simon Warren was sent off and two Lee James goals were disallowed.

Lightning said: "The game was ruined by the referee, he was awful. I am not proud of getting booked, but I had to let him know how unhappy I was."

"He was giving random free kicks and ruled out two good goals for us before sending off Simon Warren, for two yellows, which were never really bookable offences."

Robbie Mason might have scored a first half hat-trick on another day, but he was thwarted by the Halstead keeper in three one-on-one situations.

But Halstead struck first in the seventh minute and could have made it 2-0 but for an on-the-line clearance by Russell Flitton.

James thought he had put Ely back in the game twice before the break, but each time he out-jumped the home keeper to put the ball in the back of the net, the goals were ruled out. Halstead hit a second on 28 minutes and were 3-0 ahead within a minute of the restart before the visitors began the fight-back.

Warren headed one back for the Robins on 78 minutes and Dave Daniels made it 3-2 with four minutes to go, before Warren was shown the red after picking up his second yellow card and Ely were unable to find the equaliser with the 10 men.

Ely take a break from the league on Saturday when they travel to Ridgeons League, Premier Division side Needham Market in the first round of the FA Vase.

Harlow's ready to forge a four-timer

ENGLAND bowls star Greg Harlow is set to extend his remarkable record in Sheffield, where he is seeded to win his fourth successive title in next month's engage International Open, the opening event of the World Bowls Tour season. The engage International Open will be staged on the WBT's unique portable rink at Ponds Forge International Sports Centre – for the seventh year – from November 4-11.

With live coverage on BBC TV, the event will feature the top 16 players in the world, joined by qualifiers from the UK, Australia, South Africa, USA, Canada, Hong Kong, Israel and New Zealand. Harlow will face Hong Kong qualifier Kenny So in the first round. But the 39-year-old world No2 from Ely, one of the few of the world's top 16 who only competes indoors, has followed the same routine he has for many years – and taken the summer off.

"Since June, I've not lifted a bowl. I've been doing what I do every year, taking the summer off and just relaxing. Most people are amazed that I take a break like this – but it works for me," explained the three-time International Open champion.

"I started practicing again in the second week of September and have been working quite hard since then in preparation for November." Since first winning the International Open in November 2004, Harlow has been untouchable at Ponds Forge. Indeed, he is unbeaten in 18 matches at the venue.
